

New Brockton News

Mr. Don Alexander, of Fayette, and Mr. L. E. Rainey, of Enterprise, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rainey last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Folsom and their two sons, Tom, 10, and Cairo, 8, spent Tuesday and Tuesday night with Mrs. T. D. Folsom and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brock and L. O. Stover, accompanied by Mr. Leo John, of Enterprise, spent Tuesday in Florida fielding the annual golf and tennis tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutchison and children, of Enterprise, visited Mrs. and Mrs. J. A. Wilkes Sunday.

Rev. D. L. Folsom, rector of the First Methodist Church, Elba, at Cross Roads Saturday morning, Miss Linda Bush, who is teaching new Hartford, spent the week.

Mr. Dan Wood, who has been sick for several weeks, is improving steadily.

Rev. W. M. U. Folsom and family are attending the Alabama Methodist Conference in Mobile this week.

Misses Boulah Rainey and Jewel Fleming spent the weekend with Dell Pittman, near New Hope.

Armistice Day was observed in a holiday with picnics every day.

Brook for prayer offering amounted to $8.80. All present read the song, "The Voice of God is Calling."

Mrs. Folsom appointed a committee to select officers of the new year to report two weeks later.

Mr. and Mrs. Folsom and their 17, 18, 19 and five children met at the home of Mrs. M. O. and Mrs. Folsom for a social meeting and a program of the prayer program. Mrs. D. L. Folsom helped them. Mrs. Folsom reported box of school supplies sent to the school by Mrs. Folsom in Montgomery value $10.35, and by children's department. Society voted to pay money in treasury to help the school.

Mrs. Folsom stated that her name not be considered for president for next year.

A belated welcome to all the children for the school year. A child asked for a superintendent that could play. She also asked that the school be open to the public.

The Court, after an interview with the Folsom, has agreed to file its statements and vouchers for a final settlement and failing to do so, a court proceeding will be held.

It is ordered that the 2nd day of December, 1930, be appointed a day on which the Folsom will state account and for a final settlement in said estate, at which all persons interested can appear and contest same.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:30 a.m. on October 31, 1930.

Hot day: $12.30 raised this year.

Hot weather with marshmallows and wafers was a success.

Everybody had a nice time.

It is commendable; everyone can and should save something. But with extravagance spending is harmful, and it is equally detrimental, according to leading economists.

For several months there has been an unusual percentage of unemployed in this country, as well as in the rest of the world. This has been due to the general decline in the power of the public. But the engine of parsimony by those who are still working are able to keep a reduced consumption to an even greater extent.

What is needed right now is for the country to aid in restoring normal conditions, and to bring the attention of the part of the people who have more to spend for things they can really use.

At no time since the World War has it been possible to buy a greater or more expensive car. In spite of this fact, this car is a necessity, especially for the really rich. The return of general prosperity is so long as these things are still needed, then we have money to spend.

SOME GOOD NEWS

Efforts of the unemployed to find employment in the present diminishing employment situation seem to be beginning to get results. Among cheering items is the fact that a business magazine is reporting that business

One railroad will spend $500,000 during November and December, and the number of employees given three days work is to be 4,000 additional men. Another railroad has engaged 600 men, and others have engaged 1,000 men. Employment by adjustment of working schedules have taken more men.

"Government projects to spend $100 million in public works on the part of the public. But the public works have proved my salvation, and where I put my greatest effort, I am getting most."

There are only a few of the many recent developments which show that the unemployment problem is being taken to a greater extent than ever before.

"The things that our farmers are neglecting—the cow, the hog, and the hen—will be given a new lease on life. It is simply pitiful to see the poor farmers robbed of the fruits of their labor. It is even more pitiful to see how their families are being forced to make a living, or even to work, for the minimum number of men employed."

"Examination by eye specialists is the best possible guarantee for the health of the eye and indicate the treatment which should be given.
